LOCALS LOSE IN BEST FOOTBALL GAME OF SEASON

The best football game of the season was played yesterday on the high school gridiron when Ashland won from Grants Pass by a 6-0 score. As the score would indicate, both teams were playing fine ball, the defensive of the locals being especially noteworthy. The general opinion before the game was that Ashland would run up a large score on account of their superior weight, but the Grants Pass fighting spirit manifested itself and the visitors were barely able to get the ball over the goal line once.

The game was filled with thrills, although few long runs were made by either side. The first half was played without either team scoring, a try for a field goal by the locals failing. In the third quarter Ashland crossed the line for a touchdown, but failed to kick goal. An intercepted forward pass spoiled Grants Pass' chance of scoring. The fourth quarter passed with both teams fighting hard but unable to score.

According to precedent, a small crowd attended the game, but it was a wildly excited one when it saw the manner in which the local players held the larger team.

Reception to Teachers

The Newman Ladies' Aid society has planned a reception for the public school teachers to be held in the church parlors on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged and a cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Books for School Libraries

School Superintendent Savage has just completed the making up of the lists of books to be added to the libraries of the 53 districts in the county. Each district gets books according to its enrollment of students. No. 7, Grants Pass, getting nearly 200 new volumes, while some of the smaller districts has to be content with a single volume.

Horticultural Encyclopedia

Of interest to all engaged in horticultural work of any kind is the purchase by the public library of a reference work on the subject. This three-volume set is the new Encyclopedia of Practical Horticulture, published at North Yakima, Wash., and deals with conditions as found in the northwest. Those who have seen the encyclopedia find that it gives the information needed for the coast section and are agreed as to its practical value in this respect.

Silverside Salmon Running

A few silverside salmon have come into the river, Claude Barden having reported the first catch of the season Saturday. The silverside strikes at the spinner, and furnishes fair sport during the winter. The fish is not regarded as of much value upon the table, however.

Fixing Road in the Siskiyou Reserve

An appropriation of $500 made by the Siskiyou forest reserve people is now being expended upon the Crescent City-Grants Pass highway where it crosses the reserve at the foot of Oregon mountain. This amount of cash was appropriated with the proviso that an equal amount be spent from other sources. The county has already spent $300 upon the road, and the mail contractor who carries the mail over the road agreed to expend enough to make up the amount required.

Registering for City Election

The registration books at the office of the city auditor are now open, but the populace is not coming to the front very rapidly to qualify themselves for the city election to be held on December 6. Only 118 had registered up to three o'clock yesterday afternoon, of this number 37 being from the first ward, 29 from the second ward, 17 from the third ward and 35 from the fourth. The books will remain open till the Friday before election, which will be the 3rd of December.

Pays Peddler's License

A salesman of a combined ironing board and step ladder was plying his trade in the city this week, selling the article on sample and making delivery the same day from a stock kept in the city. Complaint was made to the city that he was violating the recently enacted ordinance prohibiting itinerant merchants from making sales without taking out the prescribed license, and he was called before the proper authorities. The matter was finally disposed of by the man taking out a license for a week and enriching the treasury by $12.50.

Clean-up Day Saturday

The meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Saturday afternoon was one of especial interest, Mrs. Belding giving a splendid report of the federation meeting held at Salem recently and Mrs. Bartlett making some startling revelations in her talk on "Machine Methods in Club Politics." The audience was pleased with the piano duet by Mrs. Vater and Mrs. Veatch. Next Saturday, if the weather is fair, or the following Saturday if it is rainy, was named by the civics committee as Clean-up day, when all are urged to make their yards as slightly as possible for the beginning of winter.

Engine Collides With Freight Car

A big Chicago and Northwestern freight car standing on the siding near the Sixth street crossing was badly wrecked when a helper engine being driven by Engineer Orme collided with it late Friday night. The car was standing in the shadows and was unseen by the approaching engineer, who thought the way was clear and who struck it a heavy jolt. The ground was strewn with broken bolts and the car was nearly knocked from its trucks. It was loaded with merchandise, the most of it billed through to points in the north, and while no great injury was done the contents, it looked as though a cyclone had struck it.

Hogs Like Sugar Beets

The swine population of the valley will be happy if the campaign for the location of a sugar factory proves successful. C. E. Niles, manager of the Leonard Orchards company, states that the hogs on the ranch show a decided preference for the sugar beet over all other varieties of the beet family. He recently turned the hogs into the field in which the experimental plot of sugar beets was grown, together with a quantity of stock beets. The hogs cleaned the tops off from the sugar beets, leaving the other untouched, indicating that the part of the beet the factory does not want is just what the hog is looking for.

Young Lady Causes Scare

A young lady, Miss Mildred Lovelace, was the inadvertent cause of a scare among her friends Saturday morning, and for a time the police was organizing a search for her. Friday evening Miss Lovelace had been invited to a party at the Presley home, and left her boarding place to attend the party. She changed her mind in the meantime, however, and instead of going to the party went to the home of a school mate, Miss Gladys Swacker, where she remained all night. Not returning to her boarding place, and the last seen of her being as she neared the Presley home Friday evening, her friends became much exercised and had just called upon the police department for assistance in the search when she appeared at her boarding place, all unconscious of the commotion she had caused among her friends.

COMING EVENTS.

Nov. 24, Wednesday—Thanksgiving cooked food sale at the public market by ladies of the M. E. church south.

CONTRADICTORY RUMORS ARE RECEIVED FROM GREECE

Paris, Nov. 6.—The situation at Athens, arising from the cabinet upheaval, is most critical and uncertain. Definite news can not be obtained. London dispatches said Premier Zaimis had been asked to reorganize the ministry. Against this, Athens reported that parliament would be dissolved, and that the outcome was uncertain. A third account said that Zaimis had refused to undertake the reconstruction.

Stories were current concerning military plots, threats of revolution and wholesale political arrests. It is believed that pressure and counter moves of diplomats are producing alternate effects.

OUTLAW McFARLANE IS SHOT BY COUSIN

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
Merced, Cal., Nov. 6.—Robert A. McFarlane, 55 years old, notorious outlaw, is dead today, shot by two loads from a gun in the hands of his cousin, Frank Dickinson. The men quarreled last night and the shooting followed.

Diamonds win out over the roads you know

It is a perpetual battle between tires and roads—and victory is hard-earned.

The strength and toughness of the rubber in Diamond Squegee Tread Tires resists the roughest road wear—yawning ruts do not take toll from Diamond Squegees.

Tried for years—on every road that leads in or out of this city—on all makes of cars—Diamond Squegees have proven their unfailing superiority, and more than satisfy car owners.

We have almost discontinued making smooth treads, because the small (less than 10%) increase we ask for Squegee treads has made Diamond Squegees so popular that 90% of the Diamond Tires sold to consumers are Squegee Treads.

Squegees were put on the market because they proved to be the most satisfactory non-skid tire—tests prove that in addition to this the Squegee construction (more rubber where the wear is hardest) makes Squegees the best Long Distance tire at the price.
